

The World

The Robinson projection map is an oval-shaped projection. The shape and size of the continents are shown accurately, but the water areas are expanded to fill the extra space. This projection was created by the American cartographer Arthur Robinson.

Challenge